The new beauty which Columbia New Process Records have brought to phonograph music is for every one who owns a phonograph.

No matter what make of instrument you own, if it is designed to play "lateral cut" disc records or if it has an attachment for playing them, you can play Columbia New Process Records.

think what this means, in greater enjoyment, to yourself and your friends—the finest vocal music of the world, as free from irritating scratch as the golden voice of the greatest artist holding thousands enraptured; the choicest instrumental music as free from annoying scrape as the muted strings of a rare old violin throbbing under the magical fingers of a famous maestro.

Whatever your mood for music, the surging symphonies of great orchestras; the lilt of a troubadour song; the splashing melody of a guitar, played beside a moonlit bower; the impassioned song of a great dramatic singer; the galvanic inspiration of the latest dance hit; you'll find the dance hit; you'll find the new, velvet-smooth surface of Columbia New Process Records will give you it, unmarred by the filing noise of needle friction.

Take the accompanying list to any Columbia shop and as an example of quality listen to Van and Schenck's fascinating new song, "Down in Mary-land." On the other side land." On the other side is an equally mirthful and musical ditty, "Mississippi Moon." Note the perfect recording—note the ab-sence of annoying scratch been sounding him as to whether it would not be weil to call the extra session at once, to avoid the cost of mileage.

If the appropriation bill falls and the Legislature, addourns without provision for State expense, the Governor would be forced to call the lawnakers together again. Hunt did this a few years ago in summer, thereby promoting early adjournment.

In the event of an extra session there might be consideration of the Colorade River pact, on which a number of members are expected to see a great light after they get back to their constituents and away from siren influences in Phoenix.

No effort thus far has been made to assuage the woes of the State Highway Department, which has been left almost without funds for continuance of about forty projects for which might be obtained over $1,000,000 in Federal aid. There is doubt of the passage of the bill that puts a 3-cent tax on gasoline for road work.

Of course the confusion of the times makes prophecy hazardous if it does not forbid altogether speculation as to the course of coming events in Ireland. Nevertheless it may be possible to set down a few definite conclusions based on observations just made in the course of a somewhat extensive journey through this long distraught country.

The first of these conclusions, and it is inescapable, is that the government is extremely unpopular in all parts of the Free State. That is not surprising. Perhaps it was inevitable that the first government should fall short of popular expectations.

In many parts of the Free State one hears the conviction expressed that peace cannot be brought about between the present government and De Valera's fellowers. The opinion seems to be growing that when the Cosgrave government retires the time will be promitious for a new deal altogether in which De Valera and his adherents will be ignered. It still locks as though the road to future peace in Ireland would be found by way of the Free State treaty.

The cameramen importuned him to stand for a flashlight.

Uncle Joe straightened up just perce, tibly, and barked:

"Shoot! But make it snappy. Shoot all at once, every one of you."

He refused to discuss women in politics, or answer other political questions, but he talked almost wistfully of home. At one time he said:

Later, he reverted to the journey from Washington, saying:

"Oh, yes, I guess I'm out of politics—I'm out of condition. Going home—home to get well."

A pause, his jaw tightened and he set his old hickory cane, a companion of many years, with an emphatic tap on the floor, adding:

"And I guess I will, too."

On February 21 a total of twenty-one lockages was made, setting a new daily record, in fifteen hours and 58 minutes. Fourteen commercial ships, five battelships, thitieen submarines, three mine aweepers, two barges and an auxiliary ship were sent through, making a total of thirty-sight craft, or a new daily record in that respect.

The New Town of San Fernando Valley's [2,000 ACRES] Located on the Ventura State Highway at juncture of Topanga Canyon Drive, San Fernando Valley's ONLY OUT-LET TO THE HARBOR, except to the Beaches at Harbor through Los Angeles.

THE strategically superior location of the new town of Girard is self-evident -at the exact point where the greatest stream of traffic passes. It is the nearest to the beaches of all San Fernando Valley points—is on the main coast highway to San Francisco

There have already been two advances in the price of homesites and business lots in Girard. Another advance of 5 per cent will become effective March 18th. You will not have another opportunity to buy at today's prices.

The first of a million dollars worth of improvements are now going in.

This development is backed by the men who "made" Walnut Park and the history of that subdivision is a matter of record. Included among these men are:-

Judge Carlos S. Hardy, another peaker, emphasized the spirit of lawlessness that is creeping over the country. He then made a velled hint at the danger of continually violating the Volstead Act when he remarked that he believed a citizen could no longer afford to violate one of the provisions of the Constitution of the United States without bringing dire results later.

The men who rob your homes, hold you up at the point of a gun on the streets, steal your automobiles, are actuated by disregard of law," Judge Hardy said.

Mr. Ellis, following years of study in the art centers of Europe, and exhibits in Paris, Berlin and Scotland, returned to America and continued his work in portraiture. An interesting commission was to paint portraits of the governors of Wyoming in asserted whiskers, and that series hangs today in the State Capitol.

After a technical apprenticeship in stage scenic work. Mr. Ellis joined the motion-picture industry, and two years ago became associated with Charles Ray as art director.

The work he last completed before joining the Louis D. Mayer organization was for "The Court-ship, of Miles Standish." in which Mr. Ray is starred as John Alden and Miss Burnett as Priscilla. His artistry in building the May-flower came to the attention of Irving G. Thalbers, vice-president of the Louis B. Mayer studios, and his engagement for Mr. Niblo's staff followed.

Twelve hundred atmospheric type players and "bit" people gamboled over the cobbled square of the place, guided by a mighty voice that came from a wilsper. The whisper, hardly more than that, was spoken into the mouthplece held by Wallace Worsley, director, and was reproduced simultaneously in four magnifying horns at four different points on the massive set and the result was a clear commanding voice that every extra could hear. Western Electric officials have been working with Charles Stallings and William Koenig, production and business manager of the unit for several weeks to achieve perfection in the operation.

The Place du Parvais set is said to be the largest in area and total size that has ever been built in pictures and it represents a work of art and labor interesting to every technical man of the industry.

Mr. Laemmie, Lon Chaney and various executives of Universal City headed the reception committee. One hundred and seven cars drove through Universal City to the back ranch and parked by the "Notre Dame" sets.

The most important aspect of the "loud speaker" invention is that with its unlimited scope proven, directors need not in the future have thirty or forty assistants running about during the making of such scenes as those being shot on the Place du Parvais. There were only nine on the "Notre Dame" set assigned to the director, headed by James Dugan and Jack Suillvan, "leather-lunged" veterand. TO PLAY WITH MRS. REID IN ANTINARCOTIC FILM

By Grace Kingsley
James Kirkwood has quit the leading role of Channing Pollock's play, "The Fool," in which he has been appearing in the East for several months past, and is to come back into pictures. He will play the leading masculine role in Mrs. Wallace Reid's antinarcotic picture, "The Living Dead." in which Mrs. Reid will make her return to the screen.
Included in the cast which will appear in support of Mrs. Reid are Bassie Lave, George Hacksthorne, Clairs McDowell, Victory Esteman and Erlo Mayne, with John Griffith Wray directing.

According to announcement yesterday from the local Antinarcotic

What Sheik More Charming Symphony

Given by Orchestra

The first Schumann symphony, generally known as the "Epring Symphony," was presented for the first time locally yesterday by the Philiharmonic Ozchesira. Not less important in point of interest was the Liszt "First Plano Concerto," played by Mischa Levitzki. Elsewhere on the program was "Baba-Yaga," by Liadow, and the frequentity played Sibelius "Finlandia."

The applause of the afternoon was chiefly reserved for the concerto. Mischa Levitzki played with mastery and brilliance. There has been much controversy among musicians as regards the merits of this "triangle" concerto. It is especially Lisztian in the last two movements, if such they may be called, for this concerto is played in one long movement. The number is rhapsodic in form, rather than following any set thematic development. In the elaborate and difficult passages, in the last half especially, the soloist displayed a splendid technique and flery interpretation. He is not sensational nor does he run away with his tempos; on the contrary, he gives even in his most brilliant passages the feeling of stability and assurance.

The Schumann symphony is in-

If Argue gets a good jump he is a sure winner as he has dene clese to 32 feet, but not this year. The Tigers will sorely miss squint Pulton, bantamweight shot putter and broad jumper, who was almost certain to win ten points, but lacked half a credit of being eligible a week' ago when the is eligible now, but cannot compete until the conference meet at Pomona next Saturday. He is good for 22 feet in the shot.

If the meet depends on the relay it looks as though the Tigers would have the affair clinched as the Pipla athletes have a four-man team that takes second place only to U.S.C.'s wonderful quartet. Spangler. Powers, Elisworth and Garey can probably trim anything Pomona can produce without much difficulty.

On form shown in the early meets of the year it looks as though Cocidental should be favorite, but not strong enough to bet the family jewels on them. The team that knocks over the second and third places will probably win the meet.

It is a good jaw, a solid structure of bone, not unlike the formation of his skuil, and is capable of withstanding a fair amount of punishment. If Joe had taken any sort of care of it he might be regarded as a great fighter today.

Beckett has been in the ring for eight years, and in that time engaged in the enormous total of twenty-four fights. In five of these he was tumbled on his cauliflower oar for the count.

This was because he advanced to combat with his jaw thrust forward invitingly—a shining target for the other fellow's punches. Georges Carpentier, Frank Moran, Harry-Reeves, Frank Goddard and Pate O'Keefe all found the mark; Had Beckett kept his chin buried in his chest he probably would have escaped ruin.

Now Knocked-out Joe intends to fight Jack Dempsey if he can first beat the busted Greek idol, Georges Carpentier. Lêt him offer that jaw of his as a target to the Manassas Mauler and they'll have to call in the street-cleaning demonstrated to sweep up the piecer.

CHICAGO, March 9.—Senat avestigation of the petroleum

Because of all these factors, farm financing is largely a matter of credit. There are comparatively few farmers among the many who have enough liquid capital to carry them from seed time to harvest without borrowing or obtaining credit. If they had the means, the chances are they would buy more land with their loose change and go on in the old way. In this respect the farmer does not differ in any way from the manufacturer or merchant, who could not expand nor prosper save for the bank loais that furnish him the necessary means.

Supporting the Government

IT TAKES a large amount of money to operate our government, and the cost seems to be increasing steadily.

For example:

In 1911—
with gross earnings of $3,893,000, Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation paid Federal, State, County and City taxes to the amount of $144,000, or at the total rate of

with gross earnings of $11,915,000, the tax bill was $975,000 and the total rate was 8.18%.

In 11 Years

therefore, while the Corporation's earnings have trebled, the tax rate has more than doubled and the total taxes are over 6 times the 1911 amount.

Stockholders, Attention!

Income tax returns must be filed not later than March 15.

Stockholders are reminded that Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation has paid a Federal income tax and that therefore the dividends on the Corporation's stock are exempt from the normal Federal income tax. The surtax applies only to total incomes of more than $6000.

CANADA AT VIMY RIDGE

The Canadian government has taken ever a tract of 250 acros on Vimy Ridge. It will be planted with Canadian trees and will serve as a permanent memorial of the heroism of the sons of Canada who heroism of the pominion ion government France has ceded this tract of iand, has provided that it shall be under the control of the Canadian commission in perpetuity. The plan is to create a large park with avenues leading to the topmost plateau where a monument will be created. This will be a simple and noble pile with great pylons standing up against the sky and dominating the whole memorial.

eating wildly. It was just over the wall.

In his eagerness he thrust the one of his moccasin in the tone and drew himself up. He toked down into a great garden, and a dozen steps away, close to a nick clump of shubbery, he saw a hild playing with a little puppy, he sun gleamed in her golden sir. He heard her joyous laugher; and then, for an instant, her are was turned toward him. In that moment he forgot everything, and with a great, glad cry the drew himself up and sprang to he ground on the other side.

through had left their lines in his face. There was something about him outside of his strange attire that made men look at him more than once. Women, more keenly observant than the men, saw the deep-seated grief in his eyes. As he approached Montreal he kept himself more and more aloof from the others.

When at last the train came to a stop at the big station in the heart of the city he walked through the gates and strode up the hill toward Mount Royal. It was an hour or more past noon and he had eaten nothing since morning. But he had no thought of hunger. Twenty minutes later he was at the foot of the street on which lsobel had told him that she had lived.

One by one he passed the old houses of brick and stone, sheltered behind their solid walls. There had been no change in the years since he had been there. Half-way up the hill to the base of the mountain he saw an old gardener trimming ity about an ancient cannon near a driveway. He stopped and asked:

"Can you tell me where Geoffrey Renaud? "Renaud? Geoffrey Renaud? "Renaud? Geoffrey Renaud? "Renaud?"

"Renaud? Geoffrey Renaud?"

"Renaud? Geoffrey Renaud?"

Another postponement was added today to the long list of delays en-Another postponement was added today to the long list of delays ensuing after the conviction of Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vansetti, for murder in 1921. At the request of counsel for the defensa, the hearing scheduled for today on motions for a new trial was laid over for one week.

Sacco, on a hunger strike for the last twenty-three days, appeared energetic, and fairly strong, although perceptibly thinner than when he went on trial. His spirits apparently were high in anticipation of action in his case. When Judge Thayer asked to hear from the defendants as to whether they were willing to have the postponement, at first he refused, declaring. "I want to est," This was taken to mean that as soon as a new trial had been granted or denied he would abandon his fast.

Vannetti appeared eager for the postponement. Today's postponement resulted when Judge Thayer learned that counsel had been unable to agree as to the admissibility as evidence of an affidavit.

STORY OF HUSBAND

But the husband's story is far different. He states in his bomplaint that on February 15 he was visited by a detective named Jimmy James. This descrive, declares the husband, told him of an extraordinary plot which he said had been proposed to him by Mrs. Myers. The wife offered the complaint, to waylay her husband, knock him unconscious and carry him into the house.

The wife is charged with having told the descrive that she was determined to mutilate her husband and wanted to perform the operation herself.

The husband states that he made an arrangement with the detective on the night in question, he says that his wife sent him to the drugstore to get some lee cream, according to her asserted plan. He says that he met the detective on his way bagk, and that the detective took Him in his arms, and carried him into the house, in an apparently unconscious state.

Too LATE

It has cost the city government of New York $4,700,000 this season to shovel the snow from the streets of the city. It is too bad the old political machinists in California didn't think of this in time. They might have tapped us for a few millions to pay for shoveling the snow from Mt. Baldy and hired a lot of retired experts from Iowa to cover the job at $10 a day and a vote.

What would constitute an exam-anyhow? Some of the ablest news ers in the world would have had ty in passing an examination derived group of college professors. If re-had to have a license the same as

as possible. That is what an American citizen would have to do. Any understanding which fails to provide recognition of American obligations, protection of American property and contracts and the absolute safety of American life will be useless. There need be no legislative junketing to achieve that Much mystified, the interviewer asked him to explain what the thing really is that has robbed the grave of dead Progressivism. The Senator hastened to explain that it is a "group that has agreed to meet together, to move together and appoint committees to study cartain matters for the common good."

In other words, the difference between a Progressive bloc and a Progressive groun.

In other words, the difference between a Progressive bloc and a Progressive group is the difference between sunlight and sunshine. To deny this is to deny the algebraic formula that "Things which are equal to the same thing are equal to each other."

Groups of that kind are familiar to all students of history, both in war and in legislation; but they are generally called mercenaries. The "common good" for which they work is the good of the particular group. DOOR POLICY, JOHN BULL!

Constitutionally, England is entirely within her rights in turning her West Indian possessions into vast liquor warehouses and encouraging the operations of a feet of whisky tankers just outside the United States three-mile limit.

Commercially, both the British government and its nationals are picking up a man and its nationals are picking up a light money by co-operating with money by co-operating with size of a colossal economic problem that the people can give a man a seat in incomment of a colossal economic problem. Short and tree-planting days are moved chiefly by the hope of beautifying the landscape and transforming bald streets into shady avenues. Such activities, however, touch the nues. Technically, Great Britain is under no ompulsion to approve the prohibition promain of the United States or to help make the laws effective.

To put it briefly, there is not only beauty, there is wealth in planting trees.

Legally, so far as British sovereignty there is wealth in planting trees.

This country, indeed, will have to tackle beverages is an honorably respected occupation. That Americans who come beyond the three-mile limit are engaged in an outlinead traffic is no British business. The lawed traffic is no British business. of the navy on the rum-runners, England on the open sea is playing a safe hand. No United States dry navy is going to sink foreign vessels on the high seas, though the cargo smells like a distillery.

But it's poor policy, John Bull, a detestable policy:

Great Britain is slowly but surely altenating that mass of American opinion which in the past has formed the strongest tie between the two countries—the idealists, the Protestant churches, the pious and peaceful classes, though the foreigner countries and committee will tour all the forest regions of the country and later publish the results of its investigations. If private enterprise will do nothing to save American industries, dependent on a domestic wood supply, from the mercy of the foreigner, then in the public interest the government will be compelled to go into the tree-planting business.

As tentative measures Secretary Wallace has suggested fire protection and reduced the strongest tie between the two countries—the idealists, the Protestant churches, the pious and peaceful classes, the large-minded people, the thinkers, those upon whom Great Britain must rely for sympathy when another crisis is forced upon the world.

An Analyst of the Psychoanalysts;

Also Dr. Jung.

The unconsclous mind has within recent years become everybody's business. Its existence has become so obvious that even the film producers have been able to recognize its arrival. However, everything that has been written on that subject has not tended to make it clearer. It is quite different with William Brown's "Suggestion and Mental Analysis" (Doran) which is a synthesis of the ideas of modern leaders in the movement for the exploration of the most hidden pathways of the most hidden pathways of the mind.

William Brown approaches his subject from the standpoint of a man of letters, a scientist and an army physician. No man in Europe has made more actual experiments in mental processes than has this remarkable Englishman who took his M.A. at Oxford in general literature before he passed on to the study of medicine, afterward specialising in mental analysis.

ward specializing in mental analysis.

Amid all the weiter of conflicting theories which have followed in the train of such men as Cous. Bergson, Freud, Jung and James. Brown stands unique in that his deals with a complex subject in the language of everyday life.

There is one other characteristic of his book which sets it apart from most of those dealing with psychological problems: It is delightfully brief. Furthermore, he has a trick of illustrating most of the problems in the language of everyday life.

He places the and folk songs of all dissecting table and through an understanding beside the great scientist and watching him at his task of exploring the multitudinous pathways of the mind.

Few scientists present a clearer study of hypnotism than that which Brown makes in two of his chapters. His valuation of Bergson and Coue are also remarkable for their directness and charm. However, the finest thing that Brown does in his book is to place in his proper setting Jung, that remarkable professor of the University of Zurich, who, though a student of Frend, has really eclipsed his master in the interpretation of mental processes.

Brown presents Jung's great contribution as this: a system of suggestion by word associations which enable the patient to drag up from his memory scenes which, make they were unpleasant, he mail

MISSION WILL CELEBRATE

Rescue Workers Rejoice Over Victory Won Under Banner of Prince of Peace

One of the strongest uplifting influences in Los Angeles is the Union Rescue Mission, the members and workers of which will cele-brate "Thirty Years of Victory" at a mass meeting to be conducted at 2:45 p.m., tomorrow, at the Bible Institute. The program will include an address on "Crime and Calvary," by Rev. Bob Shuler, a musical program by selected talent from various churches and testimonies by truth has lifted them from darkness into light.

For thirty years the Union Rec-cue Mission, now situated at 145 North Main street, and the present morning is "The Eclipse of God." superintendent of which is William Price, has been ministering to the "Was Jesus Christ a real man in every respect, or did He just seem to be a man?" This question will be discussed by Dr. R. A. Torrey at the Church of the Open Door topiritual, mental and physical

Rev. Cfarence Damschroeder, of Grace Lutheran Church San Diego, will officiate, assisted by many Lutheran clergymen of Los Angeles and vicinity. Rev. Mr. Ruehle, who established the Highland Park Lutheran Church in connection with his general missionary work, has great faith in the development of the new home of worship, situated as it is in a rapidly growing and climatically favored community with a population of about 35,000. Temporarily the congregation will worship at the Knights of Pythias hall, but a movement is on foot to start a campaign for a new church building. At 10 a.m. tomorrow Rev. Mr. Ruehle will preach his farewell sermon to the congregation of the Emanuel Lutheran Church, 145 North Griffin svenue.

"THE TOMB SCENE"

"Four Varieties of Churchgoers —Which Variety are Tou?" is the subject of a sermon to be preached by Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher tomorrow morning at the Temple Baptist Church. In the evening 1000 boys of the Mesonic Order of De Molay will attend the service. A feature of the program will be their presentation of "The Tomb Scene," one of the ceremonies, The sermon subject will be "That Boy—Is He a Chip off the Old Block?" The musical program will include songs by the male quartet, solos by Alice Lohr and whistling selections by Miss Jean Smalley. "THE TOMB SCENE"

Replying to a recent address by Dr. Robert A. Milliken of the California Institute of Technology, J. J. Enticing Menu Consistent With Low Cost

Rearranging Table to Fit Depleted Purse

Omissions Make Difference in Food Costs

BY WINIFRED STUART GIBBS

"Oh, Florence, I hate to own ft, but I am discouraged!"
Truly Mother Eatums did suggest despondency; her usual sunny smile had disappeared and she looked tired and worried.
"You see, Florence," she continued, "now that every one seems to be getting pretty well again I've been trying to return to my plan of more economical living, but lately I haven't seemed to hit it off very well. My experiments at sconomy have all been eyed with polite but unmistakable disapproval, and I heard Evelyn say the other day: "I did hope mother wouldn't get sordid!"
"Of course I make due allowances for youthful extravagance of speech, but it hurt."
Mother Fedwell's hearty laugh was like a fresh breeze.

that will help the youngsters keep well,

"I suspect that you've been losing sight of some of the simple principles of meal planning that make economy entirely safe and often perfectly pleasant."

"You are an angel, as usual, Florence, and you seem to understand everything."

"I propose to outline a plan for you, Ebeanor, that will illustrate what I mean.

"In the first place, there are seven gold rules of menu making:

"(1.) A quart of milk daily for such youngster.

"(2.) Cereal for every one, as this helps to keep the food value up and the cost down.

"(3.) Fruit juices for the kindergartener.

"(4.) Fresh or dried fruit for DINNER PLANS

"Beginning with the dinner, let us say we are to have fresh cod. This is a mild flavored fish, and we can add a saind and soup of more 'snap,' keeping in mind all the while that it is best to select dishes that most members of the family can eat; then there will be as little as possible of preparing special dishes for Granny or the tiny tots.
"Here is the means for such a tiny tots.

"Here is the menu for such a meal: Bouillon, baked cod, egg sauce, baked potatoes, canned string beans, brown bread and butter, sliced tomatoes, prune whip with custard, sponge cake.

"Tou see that provides for the needs of everyone, just as it is, it you are careful to toast Granny's bread, and to omit the sauce from her fish, as well as to give her the custard part of the whip for her dessert."

there," said Mother Eatums, a bit doubtfully."
"You forget, dear, that is to come next."
"If you pian a breakfast and lunch to fit in with such a dinwer you are ready to begin to save without sacrificing. Here are two plans that will show you what I

Studio Club to Open Drive for Funds Monday

The Hollywood Lions' Club yesterday indersed the campaign of the Hollywood Studio Club to raise $150,000 for the construction of a new building, and appointed Roy Marshall, prominent in American Legion activities, as chairman of a committee to work in co-operation with Studio Club leaders in the drive which begins Monday and ends the 19th inst.

Miss Marjorie Williams, resident director of the Studio Club, will address employees at the Paramount studies today on the work of the clubs after being in existence for seven years, finds its precent quarters too small to accommodate those desirous of residence there. Mrs. Peggy Hagar Atkins made a similar address yesterday at Warner Brothers studios.

The general committee in charge of the campaign met at luncheon yesterday to complete plans. It is reported that several substantial subscriptions have been made to the fund already.
